Legendary Ride

This "Ride of Our Lives" yearbook is hereby dedicated to Walt Disney and his company's 100th anniversary! Here is a little story of how Disney relates to Medfield. According to Medfield Historical Society sources, back in the 1940s and 1950s, Walt Disney would fly into town to visit his friend Justin Dart who, at the time, lived at the Holiday Farm on Elm Street. Disney's plane would land on Dart's private airstrip, which today are the fields behind Wheelock School.

Disney's "rides" into Medfield clearly made a lasting impression, as he even honored Medfield in several of his movies. For instance, there is the fictitious Medfield College in The Absent-Minded Professor (1961) and its remake Flubber (1997). Walt Disney was quite a visionary who dreamed big and went on to design amusement parks and other ways to delight people around the world.

Now take a "ride" through the pages of this yearbook! Be on the lookout for the section dividers, each with a double-page photo and a headline containing the word "Ride" to reflect the yearbook theme.

"Don't just fly, soar." -Walt Disney

SENIOR

In middle school, I had a crush on Scott Donahue, so I decided it would be a great idea to slide into his DMs. Needless to say, it did not go well. Fast forward 5 years, and now he's dating my best friend. Middle school me would be horrified, but we think it's hilarious how it all turned out. -Zoe Zilinski

I went to prom with this girl and she barely talked to me; she was in the bathroom for most of the time but expected me to slow dance with her at the end. I got blocked the day after. -Anonymous

My date and I were at the movie theatre, and popcorn kept flying out of nowhere and hitting my date on the back of her head. Turns out, my younger sister had bought tickets to the same movie and sat behind us just to throw popcorn at my date. -Anonymous

CRUSHES

In 4th grade, I liked Zane Clarke. On the day the class made our Google accounts, we sat next to each other. I made my password as mcia9999. It stood for my cat is awesome. Zane asked me what mine was, and it took him only 2 guesses to get it right. I told him neither of those were right, though, because I was too embarrassed to admit he got it. -Anonymous

I had a huge crush on John Libertine for like 4 years, and his code name was Orange Justice because he used to do that dance from Fortnite all the time. -Anonymous

In 6th grade, I had a crush on Joe McDonald. My friends and I called him Marshmallow, and he found out and asked all my friends why I would call him that. -Anonymous

Lives Beyond

I have always loved films, and during quarantine I was watching about 2-3 films a week. Because of that, I got the idea to make my own short film. I wrote many scripts that never made it past showing it to one or two people before I decided I didn't like it anymore. However, in October 2020, I decided to write "Midnight Rock," my first short film. I casted my friends, and we worked really hard for 5 straight months. We had weekly rehearsals and nights where we just wrote and rewrote the script. In March of 2021, "Midnight Rock" was released to the public. I wrote and directed the entire thing, and it was finally ready to be sent to film festivals. I submitted it to the "All American High School Film Festival" in New York City, which is the largest high school film festival in the world. People from all over the world submit their films, so I was not expecting to be selected. When I heard my name during the selection announcement after months of waiting, I was ecstatic! In October 2021, "Midnight Rock" premiered in the AMC in Times Square to an audience full of people I had never met before. People all over the world were there to see my film!

After falling in love with baking over quarantine, I decided I wanted to share my delicious recipes with others. That was when My Healthy Sweet Tooth was created. After facing my own challenges, I knew I needed to find an anchor I could always connect to when life became chaotic. I discovered my hidden love for baking, and I intend on spreading that love with everyone who visits my blog! My Healthy Sweet Tooth is a resource to inspire everyone to lead a healthier lifestyle. My blog contains desserts, breakfasts, snacks, and so much more because who says you can't have a healthy sweet tooth?!

The Classroom

Dance has been my little escape from life for 15 years. Most people know that I have danced and taught at MDA Studios forever, but a lot of my education has come from taking master classes around New England and from developing a connection with the Boston Conservatory. Over time, I have made dance friends from all over the globe, and I am so lucky that I will be dancing with a lot of them at Berklee's commercial dance program after high school. Commercial dance focuses on performance, as in backup dancing, TV, movies, and Broadway! I am hoping to be a part of all those amazing experiences. I am so thankful for the lessons and the sense of community that Dance has given me throughout my life, and I can't wait to see what the future brings!

-Kate Farmer

My dad taught me how chess pieces move and the basics of the game when I was around 10 years old. He tells people that, no sooner than he instructed me, I very quickly outplayed him. When my grandfather had cancer and was too weak to get out of bed, we would play chess. He would impart some knowledge, and it was a reprieve for both of us. In high school, I dedicated myself to improving. My mom often jokes that, during the COVID-19 pandemic, I spent my days with a Zoom lecture on my computer while engaged in a game of chess on my iPad. During 10th grade, I decided to start the MHS Chess Club and became a founder of the Charles River Interscholastic Chess League. Our MHS team won the first ever interscholastic league tournament last year, and we're leading again this year. Chess is a game of strategy, planning ahead, and anticipating the unexpected, all of which I greatly enjoy doing on and off the board. Beyond high school, I hope to continue to play, learn, and teach the game. For me, chess is fun; it creates bonds with people and lasting memories.

NOTABLE ACTIVITIES

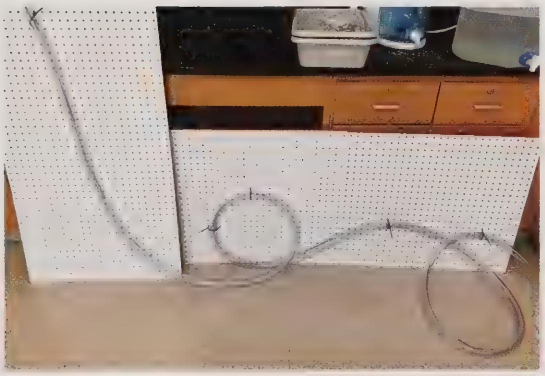
MHS Arts Collective
issue #1

MHS ARTS COLLECTIVE

Led by Mr. Faust in the Art Department, the MHS Arts Collective is a regularly issued art "zine" curated, designed, and printed by students and distributed throughout the school as a way to showcase work in the visual arts. Through a collaborative design process, students learn and apply valuable skills to create a product that they can put out into the world, giving a voice to visual expression!

CHINESE NEW YEAR

Organized by Ms. Zhang in the World Language Department, a Chinese New Year celebration took place this past winter in the LMC. This festival was held to showcase Chinese cultural traditions and to educate students about the holiday as well as the importance of cross-cultural communication!

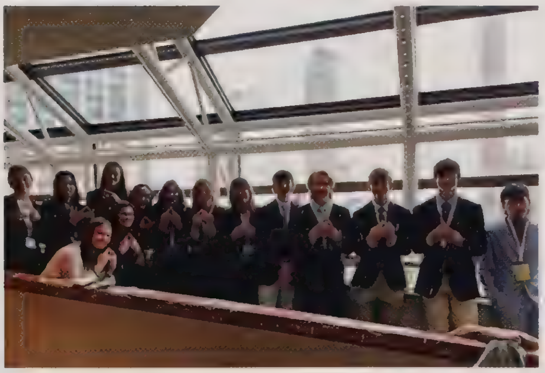


PHYSICS ROLLER COASTERS

Taught by Mr. Luce in the Science Department, the Conceptual Physics class built roller coasters as part of a project to investigate the topics of kinetic and potential energy, momentum, power, and work. What a cool real-world application...and it fits into our yearbook theme!

SPEECH FIELD TRIPS

Coordinated by Ms. Cowell of the LMC, three English teachers and their Speech classes went on field trips to various locations around Medfield (MCC, Wheelock, and Dale) to help kick off Read Across America. They traveled via the Warrior Wagon and read aloud to children, putting smiles on everyone's faces!



DECA STATES COMPETITION

Advised by Ms. Shaffer in the Business Department, a group of 39 students participated in DECA States in mid March. These top competitors from DECA Districts, where MHS competed in various business scenarios among 17 local high schools, had all advanced and were vying for the opportunity to go to DECA Internationals!

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

KERRIE KRAH

Retiring Speech-Language Pathologist

Mrs. Krah joined Medfield in January 2000 as a Speech-Language Pathologist at Blake Middle School and Medfield High School. “I have thoroughly enjoyed collaborating with the most talented, passionate, and empathic colleagues to provide the best possible services to all of our students,” she said. “My students have brought me more joy than I could have ever imagined receiving! They are so hardworking, kind, and appreciative.”

Mrs. Krah continued by saying, “My husband, Bill, and I and our daughters, Kathleen (MHS 2011), MaryEllen (MHS 2013), and Anna (MHS 2014) will forever be grateful for the amazing journey we have shared in Medfield!” In her retirement, she and her husband look forward to moving to Schroon Lake in the Adirondack Mountains, where she has summered since childhood.

people will forget what you did,
but people will never forget

The years have flown by!! We have been so proud to watch you grow into the amazing person that you are...kind, generous, thoughtful.

We've helped you create your book of life. It's now your turn to take the lead and continue your story. May each chapter be great!!

Remember we will ALWAYS be there to support you along the way. We can't wait to see what your future holds! Thank you for blessing us!

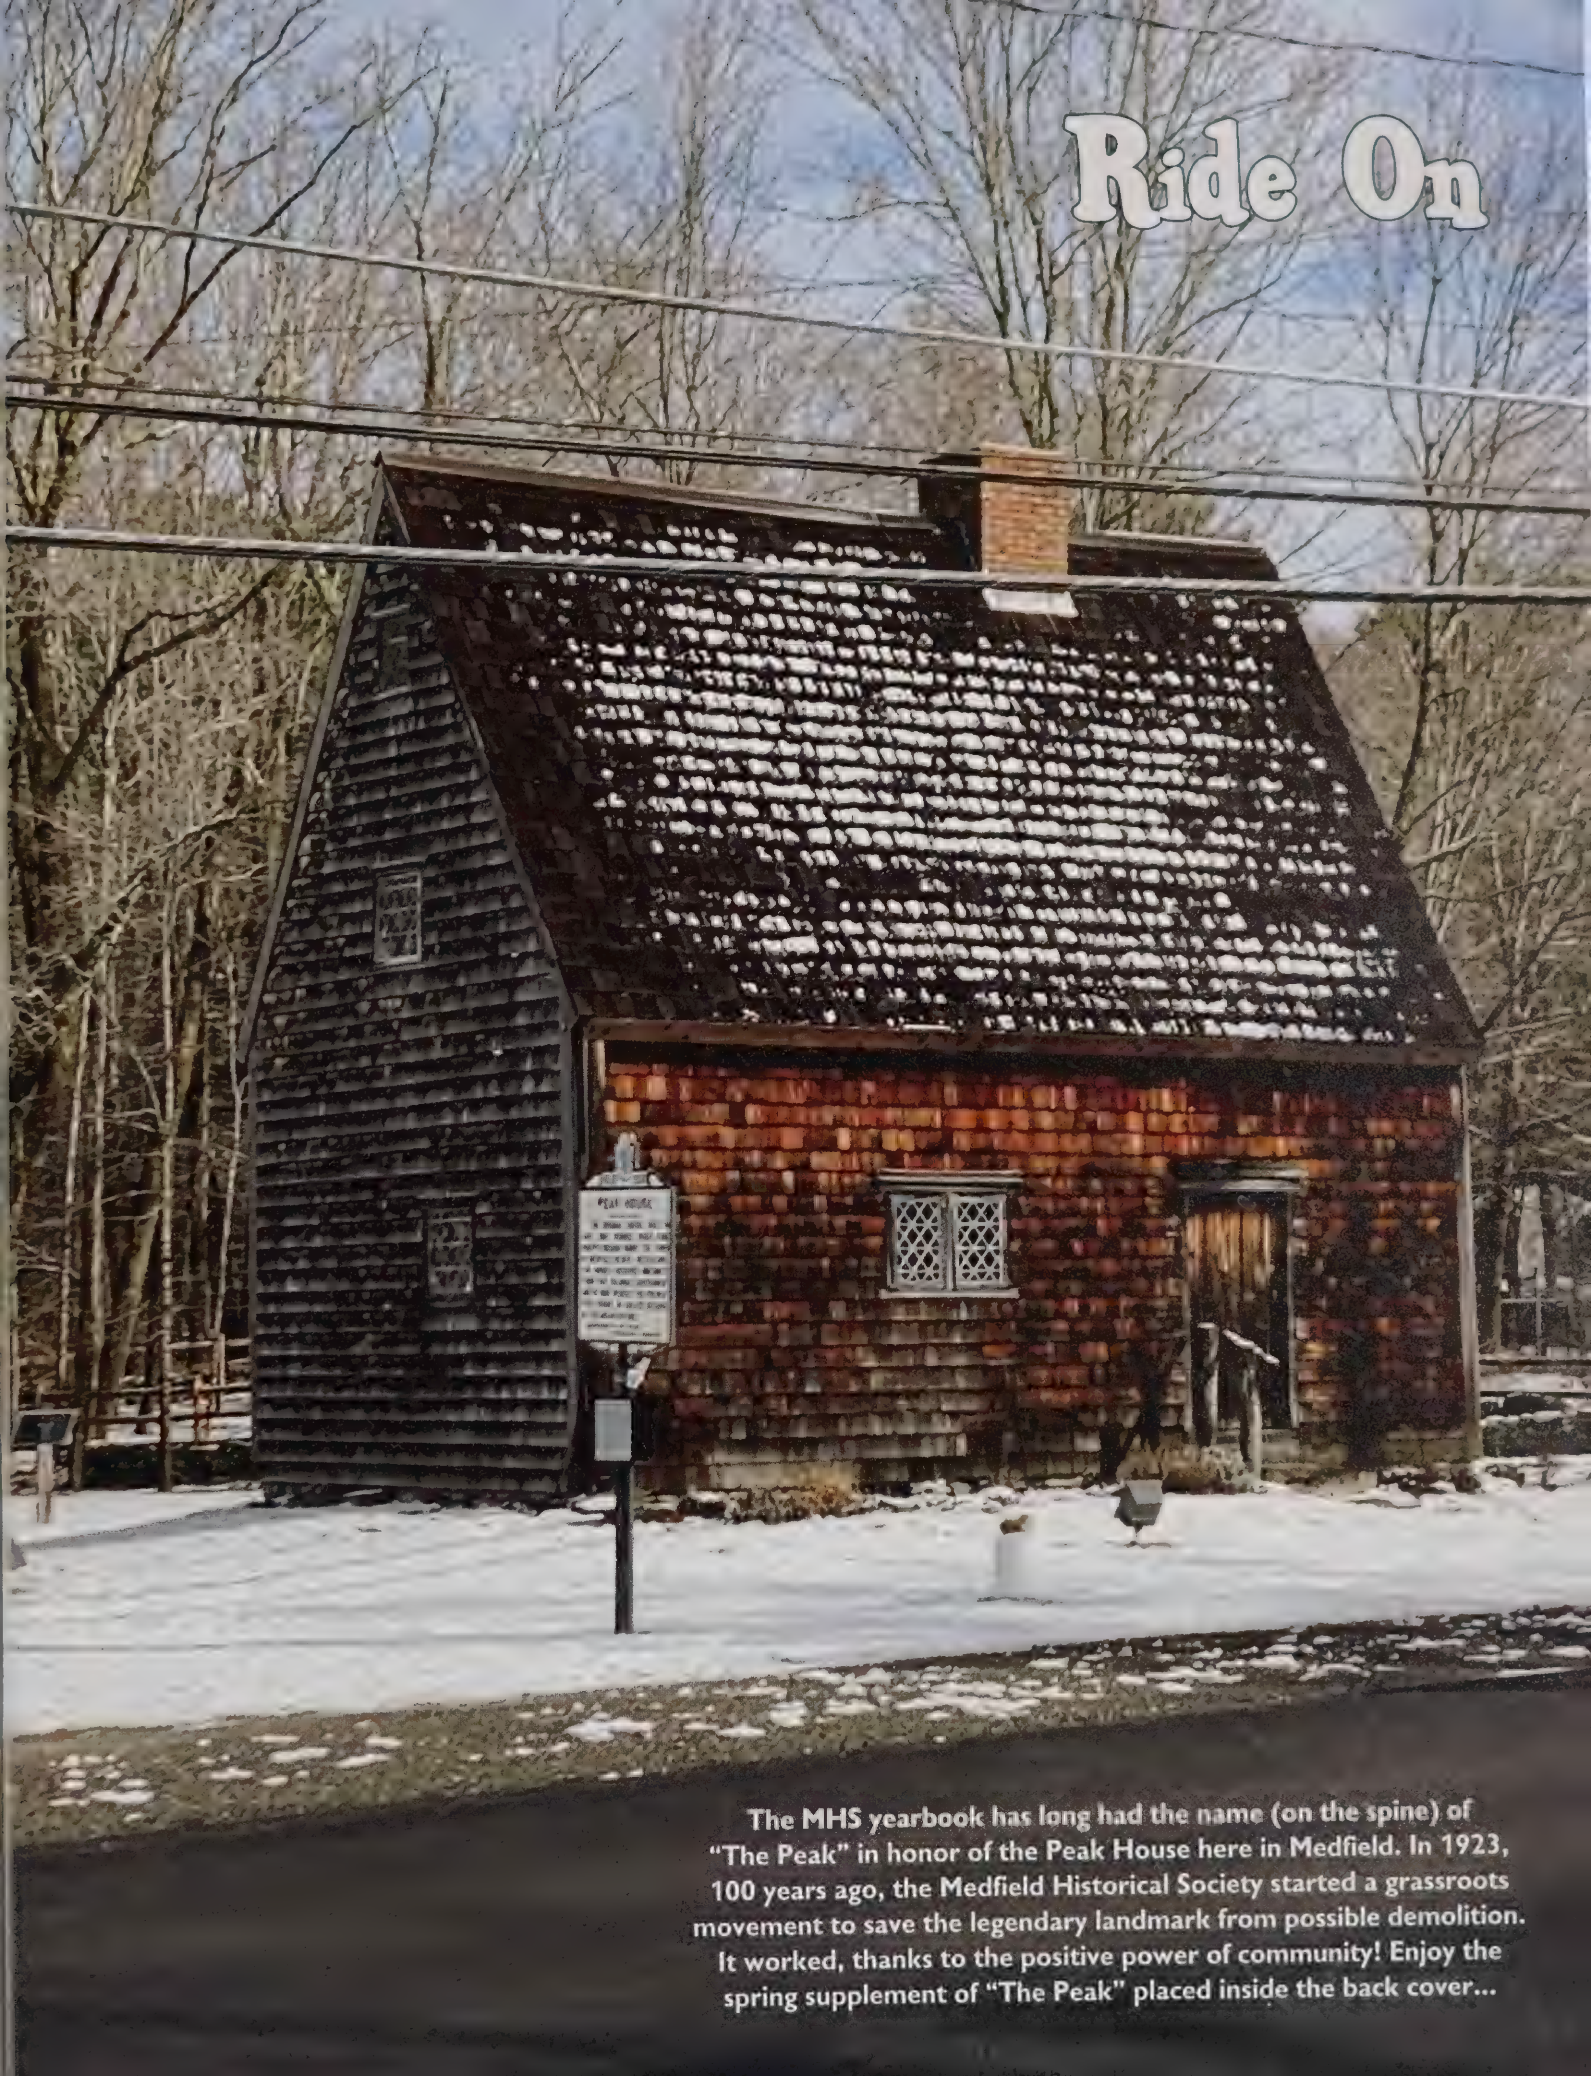
Ride On



The MHS yearbook has long had the name (on the spine) of "The Peak" in honor of the Peak House here in Medfield. In 1923, 100 years ago, the Medfield Historical Society started a grassroots movement to save the legendary landmark from possible demolition. It worked, thanks to the positive power of community! Enjoy the spring supplement of "The Peak" placed inside the back cover...
